

16 March 1977

NOTE FOR: All NIOs

I have on my desk copies of the briefing items for the President that Admiral Turner found acceptable. May I ask you to please read them in my office at your convenience rather than have us make so many copies of so much material. The process apparently involves sending these notes to the Admiral, he makes notes to himself and asks questions in red pen, and the answers to the questions are written onto the original text and sent back to him.

STAT